FRONT VIEW (3D)

BACK VIEW (3D)

The MŪ61 lounge chair takes its cue from the archetype of traditional timber reading chairs such as Børge Mogensen's Spanish Chair. The design is characterised by a generous solid timber structure that is exposed to highlight the considered techniques of woodworking and the beauty of the material. The spacious seat of the chair declines towards the backrest, ensuring a snug seated position while the rounded details of the back- and armrests are a counterpoint to the pronounced angles and tenuous junctions of the supporting structure. The solid walnut version of this design is available exclusively from EBONY/CURATED.

PRODUCTION PROCESS
The MŪ61 is made of solid timber. The parts of the structure are cut from prime quality timber, with some elements being the product of a computer controlled process. The chair is carefully hand-assembled and hand-finished at the joiner's workshop with special attention to the precise details of the pronounced angles and junctions of the piece, as well as the sloping seat. The seat and a separate back cushion are upholstered with locally sourced aniline leather.
